COLLECTION OVERVIEW

W. McNeil Lowry Papers, 1941-93

Born in Columbus, Kansas, Wilson McNeil Lowry (1913-93) was a leader in planning and administering philanthropic support for the arts and humanities in the 1960s and early 1970s. Following brief periods as University of Illinois English instructor, Navy lieutenant, and journalist, Lowry (B. A. 1934, Illinois; Ph. D. 1941, Illinois) was hired by the Ford Foundation in 1953 to direct its education program. In this capacity, Lowry developed the Ford Foundation's program in the arts and humanities, and became its first director when it was formally established in 1957. Through this and related senior posts at the Ford Foundation, he directed the distribution of over $320 million to performing arts organizations, artistic institutions, and individual artists and $60 million to humanities scholarship. After his 1975 retirement, Lowry, continued to serve the arts as a pro bono consultant in the arts, president of the San Francisco Ballet (1988-91), and as an advocate of public support for the arts until his death.

The Table of Contents for the Lowry Papers finding aid reflects the functional arrangement of material within the collection. The Biographical material in Box 1 includes awards and articles summarizing his career. The most significant items in this section are transcripts of oral history interviews. The finding aid includes lists of subjects that Lowry covered in these interviews.

Writings and Speeches in Boxes 1-3 relate primarily to the arts, especially regarding the roles the federal government and private philanthropy and the governance of performing arts organizations. This section also contains material unrelated to the arts, primarily Lowry's journalism career, as well as the first draft of a speech on intellectual freedom Lowry wrote for President Dwight Eisenhower at the request of Milton Eisenhower.

The Appointment Books and Calendars in Box 3 provide a chronological framework for understanding Lowry's work.

The Ford Foundation files, comprising the bulk of the Lowry Papers, are divided into several subsections. The Ford Foundation Subject File in Boxes 4-5 contains material on topics unrelated to the arts and humanities, especially educational television, a Latin American trip, and the Tax Reform Act of 1969. The Ford Foundation Administrative Files in Boxes 5-6 are arranged chronologically and primarily concern the Humanities and the Arts Program, but also contain material relating to other aspects of Lowry's tenure at the Ford Foundation, including his service as Acting Chief Executive Officer and Acting President, and relating to McGeorge Bundy and Lowry's retirement. The "Philanthropic Choice, Style, and Methods: A 25-Year Review" file in Box 6 provides a candid overview of the Ford Foundation's activities as a whole from 1950 through 1975.

The Ford Foundation files in Boxes 6-39 are specifically concerned with the Humanities and the Arts Program. The Humanities and the Arts Program Chronology files in Boxes 6-10 contain descriptions of the grants made by the Program in chronological order with an attached alphabetical index. The Humanities and the Arts Program Subject File in Boxes 10-39, accounting for about one-half of the Lowry Papers by volume, is arranged alphabetically, primarily by name of artistic institution or organization. Major subordinate components are: Chronological Correspondence (Boxes 15-16) containing outgoing correspondence and internal memos from 1969 through 1975 and Program Planning and Budget files giving a general and fiscal overview of the program.

The Humanities and Arts Comment Book files in Box 34 contain letters to the Program commenting on its early grants to individuals and its program initiatives. The Comment Book letters also include nominations for these grants and letters from recipients and nonrecipients commenting on grants.

The Humanities and the Arts Program Conferences files in Box 35 document discussions held by Lowry and the Humanities and the Arts Program staff with prominent individuals in the arts and humanities. Their purpose was either to discover the needs of a particular field prior to launching a specific program or to learn how the participants in a program evaluated their experience. The files contain transcripts for most of the conferences held through 1965.

The Humanities and the Arts Program Staff Work Field Notes in Boxes 35-39 document detailed work performed by Lowry and his staff to contact leaders in the arts and humanities. These "memos-to-the-file" summarize interviews and telephone conversations with individuals requesting grants, with representatives of institutions and organizations requesting or receiving grants, and with prominent individuals in the arts and humanities whose opinion the Humanities and the Arts Program staff wished to canvass. The Staff Work Field Notes also report on site visits made by staff members to artistic institutions and performances.

The Personal and Professional Subject File in Boxes 39-47 concerns Lowry's activities after retiring from the Ford Foundation, especially regarding the American Assembly on the Arts and the San Francisco Ballet. Some pre-Ford Foundation material is located in the alphabetically-labelled general correspondence folders. There is little strictly personal material. The Personal and Professional Subject File is arranged alphabetically by subject and name, but access by date can be obtained via 13 folders of chronologically-arranged outgoing correspondence for 1976 through 1988 in Box 42. Under "American Council of Learned Societies" are materials relating to an unfinished book by Lowry on the arts in the United States after World War II, including a typescript of a chapter on the theatre.

Cassette and reel-to-reel Audiotapes and a Videotape in Boxes 48-51 include recordings of internal Ford Foundation discussions concerning an economic survey of performing arts institutions, conferences and symposia organized by Lowry, and speeches given by Lowry. They also include recordings of interviews Lowry conducted with Lincoln Kirstein in 1983 and 1984 for a New Yorker article.
